I am sad to have to say but the Love of my Life went to be with the Lord this past Saturday just before 1pm. The Lord allowed her to pass swiftly and peacefully at the end as I was holding her hand and reading Psalms to her - just the two of us with our 6 furry kitties. Thank you Jesus for your kindness and for giving us so much added time these past several years. Thank you all for your very wonderful words and reflections and praying your brains out these past few years - it worked. And now she gets to know the answers to all those questions I've had about Life and space and time. The most amazing person I've ever known - my dear sweet Diane.
